

Opinions as to the Results of the Recent Tidal Wave and Cyclical Disturbances—“What Will the Harvest Be?”

TARIFF PICTURES.

Foreign countries continue to take increasing amounts of American agricultural implements under the operations of the McKinley Tariff. For the ten months ending October 31st, 1892, we sold them goods abroad to the value of $2,995,862.

For the corresponding period in 1892 our exports of agricultural implements were valued at $3,751,226.

—New York Press.

Boston had more newspapers forty years ago than now. But the modern newspaper is about as large as the whole lot were forty years ago.

Calvin S. Brice of New York, Senator from Ohio, is so weighted down with the old-fashioned “Jeffersonian simplicity” that he keeps thirty servants in his Washington house to help him remain a plain man of the people.

What petty peccadilloes the Brooklyn Aldermen are. Out of the total appropriation of $50,000 for the Columbian celebration, supplemented by $10,000 from the Supervisors, they managed to deduct only about $10,000 to their own purses and stomachs.

An accurate indication of the depressed condition of trade in Free-trade England is the fact that the percentage of unemployed members of the twenty-two principal trades unions during last November was 8.27. The percentage of those out of work in the same month the year previous was only 3.81, and in November, 1890, only 2.40.

Friends of Mr. Platt were chafing him about Mr. Cleveland's return of the pass of the United States Express Company which Mr. Platt had mailed to him as a courtesy.

“I have a great admiration,” said Mr. Platt, with a dry smile, “for the consistency of a man who returns a little express frank and accepts the gift of a special train.”

Mr. Platt alluded to Mr. Cleveland's recent trip to Hog Island. Upon that occasion he availed himself of a special train which was placed at his disposal by the Pennsylvania Railroad.

Mr. Cleveland's administration will either be a tremendous success or a colossal failure. Here are some of the questions Mr. Cleveland and the Democratic party will be compelled to grapple with:

Revision of the Tariff.

Silver.

Immigration.

New States.

Annotation of Canada.

Nicaragua Canal.

The Bering Sea matter.

Not since the war has any administration had greater responsibilities. It is of the utmost importance that Mr. Cleveland should have an exceptionally strong man at the head of the State Department.

The Newport Journal is moved to say that if the accounts of the utterances of Sam Jones, given in The Hopkinsville Kentuckian, are true, then the Grand Jury of Christian county ought to indict him for public indecency. Three specimens will be sufficient to convict him: “If I was a woman, I would rather sleep with a wet dog than an old whisky soak.” “I'd rather try and make a skunk stink by putting something on him, than to try to slander a saloon-keeper.” “Some widows!” with brawches on talk of giving a widow's mite.” And that sort of vulgar blackguardism is done in the name of religion, is listened to by thousands, and encouraged by those who would be ashamed to use the language used in the pulpit by this blasphemous mountebank unscrupulous.

It is safe to say that if any regular Preacher in Mayville would use such language in his pulpit, one-half his congregation would leave the house—and the other half ought to.

A Word to Republicans.

The hope of the party lies in the expansion of a stalwart Republican press. The Republicans are the only party that can hope to support a Democratic paper to the exclusion of one's own party newspapers is untrue to the Republican cause.

The Democratic papers have been boasting of Mr. CLEVELAND's "Jeffersonian simplicity" and pure Democracy because he refused to accept a "frank" tendered him as a courtesy by the United States Express Company. But we have not heard any remarks about him accepting the tender of a special train on the Pennsylvania Railroad. Oh, consistency, thou art a pinchbeck jewel!

SPEAKING of the many fraudulent names that are undoubtedly on our pension rolls, the Cincinnati Tribune offers this suggestion: "Probably the most effective means to bring about the exposure and punishment of that class of claimants would be for the different soldiers' organizations of the country to adopt measures to aid the Commissioner of Pensions and his agents in pruning the rolls of all unworthy persons. This would be a work of real patriotism, worthy the attention of those whose valor and sacrifice preserved the Nation."

BR'ER BLACKLEY wants to know who make up the "real American people." Well, not the tremendous mass of foreigners who vote in New York City, thousands of whom have not been in this country six months, and many of them not six days; not the foreign voters of Chicago who threw Illinois to the Free-trade candidates. And so on. The "real American people." Brother, are the men who lived here twenty-one years before they were permitted to vote, and not the fellows who are provided with coffee-colored naturalization papers as soon as they step out of the gates of Castle Garden. Now do you understand what we mean, or do you want to understand.

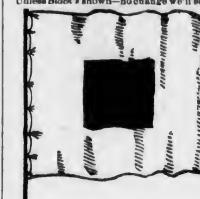

Some over-sensitive newspapers—edited evidently by briefless lawyers—are terribly wrought up because a crowd of good citizens avenged the outrage on a young woman at Bowling Green by quietly and speedily hanging her assailant in broad daylight. They say "the law has been insulted." We think their chief lament consists in the fact that some jaded law-butchers were deprived of the job of defending the malefactor. Of course the villain offered no resistance to the law's arm, but he did not do it in a decent, fearless resistance, and because of her fearless resistance clashed her throat with a knife. The law is all right; the laxity in its enforcement, and the skillfulness of fee-hungry lawyers in distorting its meaning, are the things that tell upon the patience of the people.

SHIP CANAL

One That Will Unite the Atlantic to the Great Lakes.

A Convention of Commercial Bodies Discuss the Matter at Washington.

It is claimed to be necessary owing to our relations with Canada—it is of the utmost importance from a military point of view.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—The convention of commercial bodies of the country, called by the Duluth chamber of commerce, to consider the scheme to unite the great lakes and the ocean by a ship canal through the territory of the United States, assembled yesterday in the banqueting hall of the Arlington hotel.

It was called to order by S. A. Thompson, secretary of the Duluth chamber of commerce, who read the call under which delegates were appointed. At this time there were between seventy-five and one hundred gentlemen present, representing States and commercial bodies from those portions of the country most deeply interested.

The call recites that "it has long been recognized that it would be for the greatest advantage, commercially, to have a deep water ship canal connecting the great lakes and the Atlantic, and that the time has now arrived when it is of the utmost importance that this connection should be made through American territory; but no decisive action looking to the construction of such a canal has ever been taken." In the past, however, public attention has been sharply drawn to the matter by the controversy between the governments of the United States and the dominion of Canada over the discriminating tolls levied by the latter on American commerce passing through the Welland canal, and the passage of the so-called retaliation act imposing corresponding tolls upon Canadian commerce using the St. Lawrence. Instead of receding from a position of hostility, the dominion government is hastening by every means in its power the enlargement of the St. Lawrence canals and the construction of a Canadian canal at the Soo, and the intention of promptly closing the Welland and St. Lawrence canals to American commerce, either directly or by the imposition of prohibitive tolls.

The people of the United States are thus brought into conflict with the fact that within five years at most the merchant ships of Canada and British men-of-war as well will have an open way between the ocean and the lakes, while the Erie canal, with but six feet of water, will constitute the only waterway between Lake Ontario, or between the Great Lakes and the sea, for both the commerce and the navy that sail beneath our flag."

A permanent organization was effected as follows: President, George H. Ely, of Ohio; vice president, C. W. Good, of Vermont; and William A. Sweet, of New York, with one honorary vice president from each state; secretary, S. A. Thompson of Minnesota.

TOUCHING TRIBUTE

To the Late Senator MCKEEAN—Honored At His Church.

Washington, Jan. 15.—The Senate of the United States, the houses of representatives, the president and members of the cabinet, the chief-justice and justices of the supreme court, the diplomatic corps, a committee of the two houses, and the White House legislature and as many of the public as could find accommodations in the galleries attended the funeral services over the remains of Senator John Edward Kenna in the senate chamber. The remains were interred with a seat by the side of Vice-President Morton. The different bodies were officially announced as they came by as Assistant-Sergeant-at-Arms, Head of the senate.

After Mrs. Kenna and her children had taken leave of the dead, the body was carried into the senate wing of the capitol, where it laid in state in the marble room under a guard of the capitol police. Mrs. Kenna took leave of the remains, having agreed to do so, to be shown by any one, and her agony too great to be witnessed even by friends.

At 1:15 p. m. in a procession of rebed priests, presided over by a deacon bearing a censer and tall wands, the lighted march down the aisle, followed by a squad of capitol police in full uniform, escorting and carrying the casket, which was covered with palms and flowers.

The priests, with Bishop Keane, of the Catholic university, in his purple robes, ranged themselves about the coffin.

Father Donahue opened the religious services with a simple oration, and asperged it with holy water. He was attended by an acolyte waving the censer, the fumes of which pervaded the chamber. He read the funeral service of the Catholic church, first Latin and then in English.

Bishop Keane preached the funeral sermon.

After the ceremonies the funeral procession wended its way to the Baltimore and Potomac station. The train bearing the coffin and the funeral party will arrive at Charleston, W. Va., Friday morning by the C. & O. rail road.

Good Friday Sunday Closing.

WATKINSBURG, Pa., Jan. 15.—Rev. H. Canfield Jones, pastor of the First Presbyterian church and secretary of the Chester county Sabbath observance, has received a telegram from Sen. George C. Jones, by which he will call his previous action and says he will do all in his power to the senate toward having the gates of the Columbian exposition closed on Sunday.

WAR TALK.

Chancellor Caprivi thinks it best for Germany to assume the offensive.

BERLIN, Jan. 15.—Chancellor von Caprivi has recommended to the cabinet of the Reichstag committee of twenty-eight appointed to consider the army bill, and made as important speech setting forth the necessity for the adoption of the bill without change or modification. Referring to the relations existing between Germany and Russia, the chancellor declared that there was no enmity between Emperor William and the czar, and neither was there any animosity between the two governments. With regard to France and Russia, France and Russia, Chancellor von Caprivi said that probably an entente in regard to military arrangements existed between those two countries. He added that made up the position of the attacking forces would doubtless be augmented by the addition of Austria and Italy, and said that if such an attack was made, the chief object of the attacking forces would doubtless be the conquest of Germany.

Experience had shown that when war threatened it was best for Germany to take the offensive. To do that would require that the armies of the triple-alliance be considered as in a state of superiority. As a matter of fact the triple-alliance was in the minority in point of numbers. Germany's long eastern frontier especially could only be protected by employing offensive tactics.

Both physicians responded promptly to the demand for their attention, and not long after Mr. Blaine's bedside.

After a consultation Dr. Johnson left the room, and the physician who was to be called upon to give an opinion on the case was quickly summoned. They then prayed and sang hour after hour. The sufferers would fall upon their knees and shout and yell, in a tuneless way, the disconnected sounds of some hymn.

Exhausted here, and throughout the country, is at the highest pitch, and the difficulty of travel over the snow-bound roads is regarded generally as the main factor in preventing the spread of the lungen-pest.

The overwhelming sentiment throughout the country was opposed to a commutation of any of the sentences, and just as strong of that opposition was so strong in the fight against Governor Brown, who was hanged in effigy in Miller's last night.

That the four men are considered as having a lot of cases as ever breathes good without saying. Not one particle of sympathy exists for them in the country, and the public opinion of 200 men went on duty Thursday, rolling the forty special officers who were stationed around the jail Wednesday night.

The sheriff, Mr. Plummer, says he does not anticipate trouble, nevertheless does it deserve it to keep up the boldest possible front?

MRS. JEFF. DAVIS' HOME.

A Protest against the Confederate President Davis' widow.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 15.—The continuation and reversal of Mrs. Jefferson Davis in New York city, has been quietly criticized in Southern circles for some time. Her arrival in this city, given full voice to the feeling in the following extract:

"Much has been said by the southern press of the efforts to have the legislature of the various southern states to give a pension to Mrs. Davis, and the present crisis is allowing him every opportunity to surround himself with satisfactory assistants. The retirement of M. Bureau from the ministry of marine has given him greatly strengthened public confidence in his cause."

Julia Ferry is quoted as saying that all steady going republicans ought to unite in opposition to a dictatorship, to a restoration of the monarchy or the empire and to anarchy. Close watch must be kept on the Rutherford, the present crisis is allowing him every opportunity to surround himself with satisfactory assistants. The retirement of M. Bureau from the ministry of marine has given him greatly strengthened public confidence in his cause."
